

About SCG

With a proud history spanning over half a century, Stonewater Consulting Group (SCG) is a privately owned company, specialising in the provision of permanent and interim recruitment services at the middle management to executive levels across Australia and Asia-Pacific.

Our areas of expertise are as follows:

- Accounting & Finance
- Legal, Risk & Compliance
- Technology
- Operations
- Marketing & Product
- Project & Change Management
- Strategy & M&A
- General Management
- Government.

Matching these leading clients and candidates is the differentiator that spells long term success for our customers and the difference that sets us apart.

We provide recruitment advice and Human Capital consulting services and have established our Asia-Pacific Head Quarters in Sydney, Australia.

SCG also has a presence Australia wide and our networks extend across the globe. The recruitment professionals have expert market experience, giving us adequate size to maintain a high profile market presence whilst allowing us to stay close to our clients.

At Stonewater Consulting Group our ethos is anchored in a set of values that reflect and treasure the relationship we have with our customers. Built on the concept of mutual trust and respect, at SCG we celebrate the value of Human Capital and believe that good deeds and great work should be rewarded.

Our experience shows that superior business models are those that share our philosophy and we are proud to partner with clients and candidates who recognise the importance of putting people at the core of their strategic thinking.

The 'SCG Experience' is one where you have been understood and fairly advised. Our Principals take great pride in working with business leaders who create competitive advantage and sustainable value.

SCG recruits at the senior executive, management, and operational levels for permanent and interim assignments.

We offer the following core services which are tailored to meet both client and candidate needs:

- Permanent recruitment
- Interim recruitment
- Executive search and selection
- Assessment & development services
- Outplacement services
- Value added services
- Thought Leadership

We establish long-term partnerships with our chosen clients with the aim of increasing our understanding of their business to achieve better recruitment outcomes. At Stonewater Consulting Group we achieve this through our account management process which provides clients with a central point of contact, promotes knowledge management and ensures that we are continuously improving the services we deliver.

We attract and retain quality candidates as a result of our strong market presence, quality reputation, the clients we represent and our dedicated candidate management program. Over half of our candidates are referred to us by other candidates.
